

NEW ENGLAND TECH

RI FIRST Tech Challenge

Call for Volunteers

2018-2019

The Rhode Island FIRST* Tech Challenge robotics season is underway and New England Institute of Technology is looking for volunteers! New England Tech is looking for technical professionals, educators, parents and all others interested in encouraging RI students to explore careers in engineering technology. Each season approximately 50 R.I. middle and high school robotic teams design, build and compete in the RI FIRST Tech Challenge.

We need you!

Adult volunteers are assigned key roles to keep the qualifiers and tournament on track. No need to be an expert in robotics or engineering, just a willingness to support our R.I. students in their interest in technology.

Volunteer at a Qualifier!

Teams in R.I. advance to the state tournament by participating in a qualifying tournament. Qualifying tournaments involve approximately 12-16 teams. The dates for the qualifiers are 1/5/19, 1/12/19 and 1/26/19. Qualifiers run from 7:30 am until 4 pm. The work is fun, and lunch is provided! Qualifiers are held at New England Tech in East Greenwich, RI.

Volunteer at the State Tournament!

32 R.I. FTC teams will advance to the RI State Tournament. The R.I. State Tournament will be held on 2/9/19 at the New England Tech Automotive Center in Warwick, RI.

Volunteers for the state tournament must have volunteered at one qualifying tournaments.

Hurry! Register with FIRST!
