

Global Game Jam over? Still want to Jam?

Got the Jammin' bug?
Here's an opportunity:

We are a group of Iranian indie game developers throwing a national festival for Iranian indie games. "Let's Go Jam" is a part of this festival. Indie game developers are people from different parts of the world but with a common passion, the idea of "Let's Go Jam" is to get to know something about each other through our beloved medium.

Each year, the theme of the jam will be the name of a country. You should tell us something about that country from your personal perspective.

The name of the country will be announced at the start of the jam. We are really excited to see what comes out of this!

The Amazing Prize: The Surprise Box + Steam Wallet Code

The participants will judge the games. At the end, a winner will be chosen from the highest rated games. The prize will be The Surprise Box which will be full of cool things unique to the chosen country plus a 250 USD Steam Digital Wallet Code. The Surprise Box will also be worth 250 USD (including the shipping cost).

The Rules:

1. Your game must be related to the theme
2. You can work in a team of any size
3. Your game must be created during the 48 hour period of the jam, do not submit a game that you have created before
4. You are free to use any asset/engine/code base to create your game

No offensive content, no racism, no offense to any culture or religion, no pornographic content

If you'd like to form a team to compete in this international game jam, please contact Bill Culbertson (N240C) as soon as possible
