

Good Jobs Challenge Ocean Tech Works Workforce Development Program

Currently unemployed and looking to contribute to the Ocean Tech industry through a career in mechanical engineering or electrical technology?

Ocean Tech Works regional, collaborative workforce development program is dedicated to filling immediate opportunities in ocean-based jobs in Partnership with PolarisMEP.

New England Institute of Technology is a higher education partner in this work to provide education and workforce opportunities in:

- Mechanical Engineering
- Electromechanical Engineering
- Electronics
- Electrical
- Robotics
- and, similarly related fields.

CLASSES BEGIN
March 2026

Click or scan the QR code to visit our website to learn more and register for an information session*.

neit.edu/good-jobs-challenge

Take advantage of this opportunity to attend school for free while interfacing, and potentially interning, with an Ocean Tech employer during one of the following 18-month associate degree programs:

Mechanical Engineering Technology

Welding
Engineering Technology

*All prospective students must attend an info-session. All participants required to fill out FAFSA.

CONTACT

Jeff Norman
NEIT Admissions
jnorman@neit.edu
401-739-5000 x3370